THE FIRST ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY YEARS

IN 1773 Thomas and John Penn, the Pennsylvania Proprietaries, deeded a lot in Carlisle to nine Carlisle citizens for a grammar-school site. The grammar school thus fostered was so prosperous that in 1782 steps were taken to advance its grade to that of an academy.

This proposal for an academy interested the eminent Dr. Benjamin Rush, in Philadelphia, so much that he proposed that the institution should be a college, rather than an academy. The Carlisle constituency of the grammar school hesitated because of their poverty, but Rush secured substantial subscriptions for a college, and finally persuaded them. They then applied for a college charter, which, indeed, was engineered through the General Assembly of the State by Rush himself. The charter thus secured bears date of September 9, 1783. Dr. Rush, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, was really the founder of the College, but it was named for his friend John Dickinson, "In memory of the great and important services rendered to his country by his Excellency, John Dickinson, Esquire, President of the Supreme Executive Council, and in commemoration of his very liberal donation to the institution."

The trustees named in the charter organized six days after the grant of the charter at the home of President Dickinson, who was elected President of the Board, and continued in this office for twenty-five years, till his death in 1808. Two other meetings were held the same week in Philadelphia, one at the home of Dr. Rush and one at the City Hall.

These three meetings were preliminary only, but in April following, 1784, the first meeting of the trustees in Carlisle began the organization of a working college. James Ross, already in Carlisle as head of the grammar school, was elected Professor of Latin and Greek, and Dr. Charles Nisbet, of Montrose, Scotland, was called to be Principal.

This remarkable Scotch Presbyterian, Charles Nisbet, was one of the great scholars of his time. As head and chief teacher at the College for eighteen years, he made a deep impression on the young men with whom he came in contact. The results of the work of those early years of the struggling College are astounding; the alumni record of the period is almost an honor roll, composed of names of men who distinguished themselves in service to the State and the Church.

Four men were graduated in 1787; two became preachers and two were lawyers, one of the latter a judge of the United States District Court. Seven were graduated in 1788, two becoming heads of academies. Of the three members of the next class, one became a member of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. The four men of the next class furnished a member of the State Legislature, a framer of the Constitution of Ohio, and a president of Ohio University. The next class produced a United States Senator, a Governor of Illinois, a member of Congress, and two heads of academies.

The class of 1794 furnished presidents for Washington, St. John's and Jefferson colleges, a member of Congress, a United States Senator, and a Maryland judge. The next class, besides a member of Congress, a judge of a United States Court, and a member of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, included the great Chief Justice Roger Brooke Taney, who served in many important positions. Taney was Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court while another Dickinsonian, James Buchanan, of the Class of 1809, was President of the United States and a third Dickinsonian, Robert Cooper Grier, of the Class of 1812, was an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

For twenty years instruction was given in the old grammar-school building, a small two-story brick structure on Liberty Avenue near Bedford Street, in the southeastern part of Carlisle. Since this location was unsatisfactory, various plans were proposed to obtain a better one, especially to purchase from the Government the old Barracks, built during the Revolution, known during Dr. Nisbet's time as "The Works." But nothing came of this effort, and the site was later used as the Carlisle Indian School, being now in service as the Medical Training School of the United States Army.

In 1799 the present college site, comprising a full town square, was purchased from the Penns for $151.50. A commodious brick building was built upon it, but, as it neared completion, it was destroyed by fire in 1803. Sympathy for this misfortune was widespread, and subscriptions for a new edifice came from all directions. President Jefferson gave a hundred dollars and Count de la Luzerne, the French minister, headed one subscription list, while upon another appeared the names of seventeen members of Congress. The plans and specifications were prepared by Benjamin Latrobe, the United States Government architect, then busy in planning the new Capitol building at Washington, and it was by reason of his ability that the present superb example of colonial architecture, West College, took the place of the original brick building.

Dr. Rush had originally planned that Dickinson College should be Presbyterian to the core, but as he saw the need of state aid, he abandoned his insistence, and the charter obtained was absolutely free from any denominational bias. The College, however, was in effect Presbyterian for the fifty years from 1783 to 1832. By this time the endowment Rush had gathered was dissipated and the College was compelled to close for lack of support.

It chanced that the Methodists of the region were planning for a college at the time. Discussions ensued, in consequence of which the trustees gladly transferred their College, charter, building, library, etc., over to new trustees appointed by the Baltimore and Philadelphia Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church. These trustees, after careful preparation, reopened the College. For over one hundred years they and their successors have happily conducted the College, without denominational restrictions, be it said. They had the pleasure and honor of celebrating its Sesquicentennial in October last.

During this century Dickinson College has had a steady growth. It has now a fine plant of a dozen buildings, mostly stone, of colonial architecture and distinctive charm. These are grouped on or about the campus of eight acres, purchased in 1799. To this has recently been added an adjacent tract of twelve acres, available for future development. In addition, there are athletic fields of approximately ten acres.

The physical plant of Dickinson is conservatively appraised at a value of $1,500,000. The invested endowment is at present over $1,000,000, and this endowment has been so well invested that last year, despite the depression, every dollar of trustee investment paid its full income.

The faculty of three in 1833 has grown to more than forty, and the undergraduate body is now close to six hundred, which the trustees have fixed as the maximum enrolment.

Throughout its history the College has steadily adhered to its liberal arts tradition. It is one of the few remaining colleges attempting no professional work. Its aim is cultural, and it plans to give young men and women a chance to get acquainted with what the world has done and has become, and thus prepare themselves for subsequent life choices. A recent student of college curricula writes, "Your College seems not to have succumbed to extreme specialization."

The Sesquicentennial celebration which occurred October 19-22, 1933, brought to Dickinson not only hundreds of alumni, including many men and women of distinction, but a remarkable convocation of the great college educators of America, including also a graduate representing the University of Edinburgh, from which came Dickinson's first "Principal," the famous Dr. Charles Nisbet. Of the 170 colleges, universities, professional schools, academies, and learned societies represented at this celebration, only eleven had been chartered earlier than Dickinson.

At the time of this Sesquicentennial celebration there was

ADMISSION

Students are admitted to the College in one of three ways:

1. By passing College Entrance Board Examinations.
2. By presenting a satisfactory certificate from an approved secondary school.
3. By examination at Dickinson College.

The College Entrance Examination Board will hold examinations in June at nearly four hundred points in the United States and abroad. A list of places at which examinations are held is published. Detailed definitions of the requirements in all examination subjects are given in a circular of information. Upon request to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board, a single copy of this document will be sent to any teacher. All candidates wishing to take these examinations should make application by mail to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West 117th Street, New York, N. Y. Blank forms for this purpose will be mailed by the Secretary of the Board to any teacher or candidate upon request by mail. The applications and fees ($10) of all candidates who wish to take the examinations in June, 1935 should reach the Secretary of the Board not later than May 27.

Graduates from literary courses of approved secondary schools should meet the requirements for admission, if they graduate in the upper half of their school classes.

DICKINSON COLLEGE

COURSES OF STUDY

The College offers three parallel courses in the Liberal Arts and Sciences, leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Philosophy, and Bachelor of Science.

In the course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, some college Latin or Greek is required; in the course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science a larger amount of work in science is required. By the end of the course a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science shall have completed five courses in Science from the following group—Biology C, 11-12, General Zoölogy, 23-24, Chemistry C, 11-12, Chemistry F, 25-26, Chemistry I, 51-52, Physics C, 11-12, Physics F, 31-32, or Physics J, 43-44.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

1. 128 semester hours of college work, in addition to Physical Education.

2. Required courses.

(a) English 1-2 (A), English 3-4 (B) or English 5-6; History 1-2 (Aa) or 3-4 (Am); Mathematics 1 and either 4 or 6 or 8 (A).

(b) By the end of the Senior year, each student shall have met the college requirements in two languages, that is, two years' work in one language and three years' in another. Preparatory work, successfully continued in College, may reduce this language requirement by one or two years' college work in either language; the amount to be determined by the Faculty in each case. The student may, however, substitute more intensive work in one language. In this event, French 41-42 (D), 51-52 (F), 61-62 (G), or 63-64 (H), German 41-42 (G), Greek 81-82 (C), or Latin 21-22 (B) will be required. Any language begun in College must be continued at least two years.

(c) Eight semester hours in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics. For the degree of Bachelor of Science, four other courses in Science are required. See Courses of Study above.

3. A Major of 18 semester hours.

4. A Minor of 12 semester hours.

5. An average grade of 70 per cent, or above, for the entire course.

NOTE. Responsibility rests with the student for the election of such courses as will satisfy these requirements.

DICKINSON COLLEGE

JUNIOR AND SENIOR YEARS

Courses of the Junior and Senior years are divided into four subject groups. Within these groups students will elect their Majors and Minors, and their other Electives according to specifications that follow. These regulations aim to provide for both Concentration and Distribution in college work.

Group 1. English, French, German, Greek, Latin, Spanish.

Group 2. Economics, History, Political Science, Sociology.

Group 3. Bible, Education, Philosophy, Psychology.

Group 4. Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics.

MAJORS AND MINORS

Courses numbered above 20 and language courses of the second year and beyond will satisfy the Major and Minor requirements. Majors and Minors may be taken from the same group but not from the same department. The departments are Bible, Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Education, English, French, German, Greek, History, Latin, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, and Spanish.

In addition to the minimum Major and Minor requirements, candidates may elect not more than eight additional hours in each of the departments in which Majors and Minors are taken.

After Major and Minor requirements are met, the remaining electives must be so chosen that a student shall have at least six hours of the courses designated for Majors and Minors in each of at least three of the four groups.

Students in their Junior or Senior years may elect from the courses numbered below 20 only with the consent of the Faculty. The hours of credit for such courses, if elected, may be reduced.

While the above regulations will apply to practically all students, they may be so modified as to meet the needs of any outstanding student whose special aims and abilities seem to require it. Such modification will be allowed by the Faculty only on recommendation of some department head and the Board of Deans.

REGULATIONS CONCERNING ELECTIVES

1. Choice of electives for the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years shall be made in April and shall have the approval of the Class Dean. Change in electives may be made with the consent of the Class Dean before the opening of any semester, but later changes may be made only with Faculty approval.

2. Elective studies in excess of the prescribed number of hours may be taken if, in the judgment of the Faculty, such additional work will not interfere with the regular work. No member of the Junior or Senior class, however, may take more than 17 hours of work if the general average for the preceding year was less than 75. For hours in excess of 17, an extra charge is made.

3. A course in which failure has occurred and which is to be repeated, and the required work of a previous class shall take precedence over all other work.

HONORS IN A SPECIAL DEPARTMENT

Students who show exceptional ability and interest in a particular subject are permitted to undertake, in the middle of their Junior year, special work leading to Honors in that department. The prerequisite for such a course is that the student must have made, in all the work taken during the Sophomore year and the first semester of the Junior year, an average scholarship standing of B. Written application must be made to the Committee on Honor Courses by February 15 of the year in which the special work is to be begun.

In order to attain Honors in a special department, the student must satisfy the following requirements:

1. Average at least B in all the work of the college course.
2. Complete the major requirements of the department in which honor work is being pursued, and secure in all work completed in that department an average scholarship standing of A.
3. Complete additional work outside of class equal in amount to 8 semester hours under the direction of a professor in the field of concentration and present an acceptable thesis dealing with some phase of the chosen field of study.
4. Pass oral or written examinations in all honor work to the satisfaction of the department in which that work is taken.
5. Finish special work, including thesis, by May 15 of the Senior year.

Satisfactory completion of the above requirements will be indicated on the student's diploma.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Below are given, in alphabetical order, the departments of instruction, with a description of the courses offered under each.

Credit for courses is based on the supposition that two hours of study accompany each period of recitation or lecture.

The College reserves the right to withdraw any course when the enrolment does not justify its continuation.

The classification of courses is as follows:

Numbers 1 to 9: Elementary courses (Freshman courses mainly).

Numbers 10 to 19: Sophomore courses mainly.

Numbers 20 and above are advanced courses, generally acceptable for Majors and Minors.

Odd numbers indicate first-semester courses; even numbers, second-semester courses. A course through the year has two consecutive numbers. A hyphen designates a year course; a comma separates two independent semester courses. A course given either semester has two numbers. L following a number signifies a laboratory course.

The numbers of courses are followed by the letters which formerly were used to designate the courses.

Starred courses may be elected only with the permission of the instructor.

GENERAL INFORMATION

IT IS cause for satisfaction to all those interested in Dickinson College that in spite of the depression there has been no let down in the educational equipment of the College, and no curtailment of the Faculty, as is so generally the case in colleges. There has been absolutely no cheapening of its educational offering.

Every student of the College is the beneficiary of income from the invested funds of the College, and has the use of a great educational plant. These contributors of other generations secure to each student the equivalent of something over $300 for each year of residence. This alone makes possible the continuance of a high-grade educational establishment.

PAYMENT OF BILLS.—Before registration for any year's work there is required of each student payment of at least $25—to be credited later on the college bill. This fee is returnable only in case the student is not accepted. It is not returnable if student withdraws application.

Students presenting scholarships will be credited on general charges for their face value.

College bills for each semester are presented and are payable at the opening of the semester.

Failure to adjust college bills when due will result in exclusion from College, and no student can have honorable dismissal or certificate of advancement until bills have been adjusted and other reasonable obligations honorably met.

DISCOUNTS.—For two or more students from the same family, and for children of ministers, a discount of 10 per cent is allowed on the General Charge account, but not on any other part of the college bill. No double discount is allowed. For a period of continuous absence in excess of four weeks, a reduction of one-half the pro rata charge may be allowed, but only for such excess, provided that the absence occurs through no fault of the student and is unavoidable. No reduction will be allowed for absence of students withdrawn for unsatisfactory conduct or scholarship.

DICKINSON COLLEGE

Rooms in the dormitories are secured to the students during term-time only, and occupants are responsible for damage to them. When students injuring property are unknown, the cost of repairs may be assessed toward the close of the college year upon the whole body of students, as a special damage account. Any student proved to be guilty of wilful destruction of, or damage to, college property, may be required to pay not only the cost of replacement or repair, but also a fine as determined by the Faculty, say ten times the cost of repair, said fine to be placed on the special damage account.

GOVERNMENT AND DISCIPLINE.—Students are expected to conform to the requirements of good morals and good citizenship. In the absence of specific regulations, the Faculty is charged with passing on matters respecting the general life of the students in the College. In practice, however, the regulation of the life of the student body is left largely to the students themselves. Among the regulations of the College is the following: "In particular, any use of intoxicating liquor, failure to give truthful testimony to an officer of the College, and dishonesty in college work are considered very serious offenses and usually lead to dismissal."

BUILDINGS AND EQUIPMENT

THE CAMPUS of 8 acres lies in the heart of the borough of Carlisle. It was purchased from the Penns by the Corporation in 1799. The College had been in existence at another point in the borough since 1783. Upon the main campus and around it are grouped the principal buildings of the College.

WEST COLLEGE (1803) of the Colonial style of architecture, built of native limestone, is a four-story building, containing on the main floor administrative offices, the portrait gallery, a Dickinsoniana room, and the spacious Memorial Hall. This hall, formerly the chapel, has recently been remodeled and is now considered one of the finest examples of Colonial interiors to be found. On the lower floor are the McCauley Room, for reading in American history, the Y. M. C. A. assembly room, secretarial rooms, and student offices. The two upper floors are given to classrooms.

EAST COLLEGE (1836) of the same materials and style of architecture as West College, is a four-and-a-half story building, used entirely for dormitory purposes. It will accommodate 110 students.

JACOB TOME SCIENTIFIC BUILDING (1884), gift of the late Hon. Jacob Tome, of Port Deposit, Md., is of native limestone, trimmed with Ohio sandstone. It contains, in the west wing, complete provision for the college department of Physics, including lecture-room, laboratories, offices, and workshop. The east wing in the same way accommodates the Chemistry department. In the center of the building is the large museum hall, in which are displayed the geological and mineralogical collections of the College, also, in a special case, the original instruments of Joseph Priestley.

BOSLER MEMORIAL HALL (1885), is a gift to the College in honor of James W. Bosler. It accommodates the college library on the first floor, as well as reading-rooms, one of which, the English room, has recently been elaborately equipped by the Class of 1900. On the upper floor of Bosler Hall is the college chapel, having a seating capacity of 600.

DENNY MEMORIAL BUILDING, adjoining the main campus, at the corner of High and West streets, and occupying the site of the first Denny Building, destroyed by fire March 3, 1904, was completed and dedicated in June, 1905. At its southwest corner is the Lenore Allison Clock Tower. The building contains twelve large recitation rooms, each with an office adjoining, and, in addition, the ornately designed halls of the two historic literary societies which date back more than a hundred and forty years. The rooms are marked with tablets recording the names of those for whom the hall is a memorial. The building contains also the lecture-rooms, laboratories, and collections of the Department of Biology.

ALUMNI GYMNASIUM adjoins the main campus on the south. It was completed in 1929, at a cost of more than a quarter of a million dollars. It is built of limestone and corresponds in architectural style to historic "Old West." The main gymnasium floor is 120 feet long and 83 feet wide, and provides ample room for exercises in Physical Training, basketball, and other indoor athletics. Movable steel bleachers at the sides of the hall offer sufficient accommodation for spectators at games. On the first floor are large dressing-rooms, equipped with modern steel lockers for all students; on the first floor, also, is the beautiful white tile swimming-pool, measuring 25 by 75 feet, with spectators' gallery on each side. The building contains also offices for the department of Physical Education and rooms for the athletic interests. It likewise provides a spacious and dignified auditorium in which 3,000 persons may be comfortably seated, and is used for commencements and similar occasions.

CONWAY HALL (1904), erected with the assistance of a gift from Hon. Andrew Carnegie and named as a tribute to his friend, Moncure D. Conway, of the Class of '49, stands half a square west from the college campus. It has a frontage of 150 feet on High Street and extends through the block to the street on the north. This large structure of 183 feet in depth has four stories, and is used as a dormitory for Freshmen. The hallways and common rooms have recently been tastefully equipped, and the students' rooms are comfortably furnished and provided with heat and light.

Adjoining Conway Hall on the north is a well-equipped infirmary for men, in charge of a trained nurse.

At the northwest corner of the main campus is the stone building housing the classrooms and laboratories of the PSYCHOLOGY department. To the east of this is the OLD GYMNASIUM, now used as a general recreation-room; also the HEATING PLANT which supplies heat both by steam and air to all the campus and many of the adjoining buildings.

METZGER HALL, located about three blocks east of the campus, on North Hanover Street, formerly Metzger College, houses all the women of the College except those living in Carlisle or vicinity. It is a spacious brick structure of three stories, with large rooms, well ventilated, heated, lighted, and furnished. It will accommodate a maximum of ninety women. On the first floor are the large reception-room and a gymnasium for women, and on the lower floor are the dining-halls for the residents of Metzger.

THE HERMAN BOSLER BIDDLE MEMORIAL ATHLETIC FIELD, the gift of Hon. and Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, in memory of their son, Herman Bosler Biddle, of the Class of '03, comprises over 6 acres and is located four blocks west of the main campus. It provides fields for football and baseball and a separate field for soccer and hockey. On the west is a large grandstand accommodating approximately a thousand spectators. In front of the grandstand is a straight-away track, 25 feet in width, forming a section of the quarter-mile oval running-track. On the east of the football field are movable bleachers, and east of these and just inside the artistically designed gateway are five model tennis-courts.

Acreage recently purchased to the west and south of Biddle Field provides room for practice games and expansion of the recreation field.

LIBRARY AND READING-ROOM. The library, housed in Bosler Hall, is available to all students, and is in the care of three trained librarians and their assistants. The collection of books consists of about 75,000 volumes, and is being increased every year by the addition of books which are needed by the various departments of the institution for reading and reference. Among the old volumes, in which the library is exceedingly rich, are the books presented by John Dickinson, also the libraries of the Belles Lettres and the Union Philosophical literary societies, accumulated by them during more than a century. The books are catalogued in a single card catalogue according to the Dewey decimal system; they are accessible to all students. The reading-room in the library is furnished with the best reading-room appliances, and its files contain representatives of the most desirable and best periodicals.

During the past year the College has added to its property, by purchase, the Mooreland park of 12 acres lying just southwest of the main campus. This new acquisition gives possibility of future expansion. The old manor house is being put to college uses, and a short running-track and archery butts have been laid out in the park. In the western part of this new campus are biological supply gardens and a natural amphitheater, which may be developed for the production of outdoor dramatic events.

PUBLICATIONS

THE DICKINSONIAN is the student newspaper, published once a week during the college year. It aims to keep the students informed of events happening on the campus and in the collegiate world. The editors are chosen from among those who have done the most acceptable journalistic work in the subordinate positions on the staff and in a course in the ethics and principles of journalism.

THE MICROCOSM is the college annual, and presents matters of general interest concerning the College, student organizations and their membership, and other student activities, constituting the year's compendium.

THE STUDENT'S HAND BOOK, published through the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., mainly for the convenience of new students, gives important information, and a complete catalogue of campus organizations and student activities, for handy reference.

THE DICKINSON ALUMNUS is published quarterly, and has for its purpose the keeping of the alumni informed of the progress of their Alma Mater. This Catalogue is an issue of the Alumnus.

THE HORNBOOK is issued several times during the year, under the editorship of students chosen from the department of English. It contains stories, poems, criticisms, and other literary matter, the product of the pen of students.

UNDERGRADUATE ORGANIZATIONS

LITERARY SOCIETIES. The Union Literary Society, nearly coeval with the College, has been maintained in continuous operation throughout most of its history. There are two similar societies for young women, the Harman Society, founded 1896, and the McIntire Society, founded 1921. Not the least of the advantages of college residence is the special training secured in these societies. For many years the work and worth of these societies have been recognized in the regulation that no student will be graduated from the College who fails to meet reasonable financial obligations to these societies.

DICKINSON COLLEGE RELIGIOUS ASSOCIATION. The aims are: to meet the present religious needs of all students; to conserve the religious background of all students; to enrich the religious experience of all students; and to prepare all students for intelligent participation in programs of religious education and endeavor in their home communities.

GLEE CLUBS. There are two glee club organizations—for men and women—and under competent leadership large numbers of the college body get both pleasure and profit from their participation in the work of these two clubs. The entire student body shares in the resultant elevation of the vocal musical standards of the College.

BAND AND ORCHESTRA. The college band and orchestra are well organized, and offer pleasant and profitable work for those who come to college with musical training or capacity. Work in these combined with the academic course in music should do much toward development of permanent sources of pleasure and culture.

The band furnishes music for out-of-doors public occasions, and the orchestra renders one or two selections at each college chapel service.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY AND SENATE. For some years the students in their organized capacity have exercised limited government over some of their own internal interests. This student government has applied especially to relations of one class with another, but has also influenced the life of the entire student-body.

The student organization is called the Student Assembly, and the elected governing body is called the Senate.

THE DICKINSON ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.—This is an organization in which all students hold membership. Its chief concern is in carrying on a program of intercollegiate athletics. College teams in football, baseball, basketball, track, tennis, and soccer are maintained and the highest standards of sportsmanship in competitive games are aimed at. An executive committee, consisting of student officers and faculty members together with the coaches, is charged with the selecting of managers of various sports, making of schedules, athletic awards, etc. The expenses of the Association are met largely by an appropriation from the Student Activities fund, which, by vote of the students, is collected from each student to cover the cost of extra-curricular activities.

THE "D" CLUB has for its members those who have earned their letter in some form of athletic contest. Their aim is to promote unity of spirit, loyalty to the College and the highest ideals in sport, without sectionalism or politics.

THE COLLEGE DEBATING SQUAD is composed of students who have shown their fitness by passing competitive trials in debating. The squad receives training in public speech under the supervision of a faculty committee, and chosen teams engage in numerous intercollegiate debates.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB is composed of students interested in dramatic performances. Three or more plays are given during the year.

THE GREEK CLUB is made up of those students who excel in the work of the Greek department during their college course. The Club sponsors entertaining and educational programs having to do with Greek life and culture.

THE MOHLER SCIENTIFIC CLUB welcomes to membership those students who have special interest in the field of the sciences. Its meetings consist of programs of demonstrations in science, motion pictures, or lectures by distinguished speakers.

THE GERMAN CLUB has for members advanced students of the German language and literature. It sponsors the German Scholarship Fund, which provides annually for a student a trip to Germany or a scholarship in a German university; and in other ways it promotes the interests of students of German.

DICKINSON COLLEGE

FRATERNITIES.—Membership in one of the Greek letter fraternities comes by invitation from the fraternity. Students may not join a fraternity until after the end of their first semester in College, nor unless they have a satisfactory scholarship standing. Among the chief functions of the fraternities is the fostering of the most desirable social life. The following are the men's active fraternities on the Dickinson campus:

Phi Kappa Sigma, founded 1850; Epsilon Chapter, 1854.
Phi Kappa Psi, founded 1852; Penn. Zeta Chapter, 1859.
Sigma Chi, founded 1855; Omicron Chapter, 1859.

BENEFICIARY SCHOLARSHIPS AND LOAN FUNDS

A number of funds and scholarships have been established in various ways by friends of education in general and of the College in particular, and are awarded by the donors or by the President to such students as may be in need of financial help. It is doubtful whether the same amount of money expended in any other way would accomplish a greater service in the cause of education than these small sums used to supplement the insufficient means at the command of worthy young people seeking an education. It is hoped that their number may be largely increased by men and women concerned to do good with their means.

Endowed

THE BALDWIN MEMORIAL CHURCH SCHOLARSHIP of $50, established in 1917, proceeds of a contribution made by the Baldwin Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, of Millersville, Md., in 1866, is awarded to such worthy student as may need financial help. GRACE BECHTEL MEMORIAL.—The interest on a $1,000 endowment to be paid annually to that student of Dickinson College who is preparing for entrance into the Christian ministry of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; or, if there be none such, to that student who is preparing for missionary work under the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church.
